

STRONG Brothers

PIONEER HOME FURNISHERS

INVITE the people of Albuquerque to the formal opening of their remodeled store, the largest furniture establishment in the southwest,

This Evening, April 29th
at 7 o'clock

Special music program by the Ellis-Fuhrmeyer Orchestra from 7 to 8:30 P. M. Come and bring your friends.

Souvenirs will be given to all lady visitors

Strong Block
Corner Second St. and Copper Ave.

AZTEC FUEL CO.

OUR COAL BURNS
TRY DIAMOND
GALLUP COAL.
BEST MILD
WEATHER COAL
ON THE MARKET.

FACTORY & NATIVE WOOD
PHONE 251

AMERICANS NOT TO QUIT MEXICO UNTIL BORDER IS PROTECTED

(Continued From Page One.)

Garcia informed the American officers that it was the desire of General Obregon and his conference to extend the hospitality of the city of Juarez to the visitors, and that he had suggested therefore, that all conferences be held in the council chamber of the Mexican customs house. This invitation was accepted.

Consul Garcia indicated that the Mexican officials present at the first conference in addition to General Obregon would be Generals Trevino, Gaytan and Santos, Governor Quiroz and himself. He said also that an urgent telegram had been sent to General P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, to hurry to Juarez from Agua Prieta. He said that with the permission of the American authorities, General Calles was expected to make the trip over the American railways in time to take part in the negotiations.

General Calles Expected.
Governor Calles is reported to be a strong adherent of General Obregon. At the present time he has in the neighborhood of 15,000 troops gathered in his state.

While it has not been definitely settled, it is believed that the American representatives will be limited to Generals Scott, Punnett and Bell.

The American officers spent tonight in their private car, stationed in the railway yards, safe from all intrusion. The Mexican representatives also quartered themselves in their trains. There were no hotel accommodations for them in Juarez.

The council chamber of the Juarez customs house, which will be utilized for the conference, is a large room, finished in green and carpeted in the same color. It formerly was used by Francisco Villa for his executive meetings. On its walls are three portraits—those of Hidalgo and Juarez, liberators of Mexico, and Francisco Madero, who headed the first of the constitutional revolutions.

AMERICANS EXPECTED TO ASSIST CARRANZA.
Washington, April 28.—American officers have been instructed to work out in detail military plans for the co-operation of the Mexican and American troops in the dispersing of bandit bands, including a division of northern Mexico into spheres of activity for the two forces. It became known here tonight.

Generally speaking, the aim of Generals Scott and Punnett at the Juarez conference will be to secure the consent of General Obregon to the employment of the American troops in the territory immediately south of the border, and to the organization of the Mexican forces along definite lines in order that all of northern Mexico may be secured thoroughly for Villa and other outlaws.

General Obregon will be told that the United States is not yet satisfied that American border towns will be free from raids similar to that on Columbus if the American troops are withdrawn. He will be assured, however, that the troops will be withdrawn just as soon as there are reasonable grounds for such a belief. He will be told that the sooner the Mexican troops give complete co-operation, the sooner the troops will accomplish this object.

The Mexican question, including the instructions to Generals Scott and Punnett, were gone over fully at today's cabinet meeting, the first held since it was determined to send General Scott to the border to see General Obregon.

Press reports that General Obregon intended to urge the American forces from Mexican territory brought no comment from officials acquainted with the instructions to General Scott. Whatever the Mexican general has to say on this subject will be reported in complete form to General Scott, for the complete information of the state department. Secretary Baker has consistently replied to inquiries that all questions of policy were under Secretary Lansing's jurisdiction, the war department and its officials having to do only with military questions directly connected with the protection of the border and the pursuit of Villa.

Officials here have noted the statement in border dispatches that General Obregon would assert that 40,000 Carranza troops now were employed in policing territory south of the border, thus insuring protection of American border towns from Mexican raiders. It is generally understood, however, that this will not be regarded as the convincing demonstration desired by the Washington government.

CALLES LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE AT JUAREZ.
Douglas, Ariz., April 28.—Accompanied by his staff of three officers and Iva G. Lelievre, consul for the de facto government of Mexico in Douglas, Gen. P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, left here tonight for El Paso to confer with Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war.

General Calles stated that he had no idea how long he would remain in El Paso as he was going on orders from General Obregon and would remain as long as his chief desired his presence.

He confirmed the report that if all surroundings in El Paso are not satisfactory to the conference, he will urge them to come to Douglas, where feeling between the two nationalities is not so strained as along the Texas border.

General Calles said that he had decided that every life and property in Sonora would have to reopen or pay a heavy tax to the government.

"There is no reason why all mines in the state should not be operated and made to support many workers," he said.

The general stated that he had notified the management of Las Chispas mine, one of the richest silver properties in Mexico, that it must reopen by May 1 or pay a fine of 10,000 pesos for each month it remains closed, up to sixty days, after which period the state will intervene and operate the mine for the benefit of the employees until such time as the management was ready to take it over. "I do not mean to confiscate any property, but to make the tax so heavy that it will be practically obligatory for the mines to be operated," said General Calles. "I have not decided what the rate of taxation upon the mines shall be. The case of Las Chispas mine is particularly flagrant in my view as I have been reliably informed that a group of stockholders have been using the close down as a lever to obtain control of the stock. It is what you Americans call a freeze out game."

General Calles said that he knew of no idle mine at this time to which he would apply the order, other than Las Chispas.

Antonio Pedrazzini, a Swiss, and nephew of the discoverer of the mine, is now in Douglas. He stated today that he is preparing to reopen the mine next Monday. The property, which is located twelve miles south of Agua Prieta, has been closed for two years. At the time of the close-down it was announced that Mexican cattle owners were driving their cattle to the stream which carried off the cyanide solution from the company's mill and anointing the animals to drink, then collecting several times their value from the company under duress of the Mexican courts. Aside from the Pedrazzini, the majority of the stock is owned by Spaniards, during the absence of General Calles, Sonora affairs will be administered by Enrique Moreno, secretary of state, the general said.

General Calles denied the rumor that Adolfo de Huerta had been appointed governor of Sonora and himself the military commander of the state.

IRISH REVOLT IS STILL SERIOUS; EUROPEAN FIELD REMAINS QUIET

Headquarters of Sinn Fein Society in Belfast Captured by Military After Hall Had Been Shelled by Gunboat.

ONLY AIR BATTLES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM

Turks Charge That British Birdmen Made Raid on Hospital After Defeat; Germans Drop Bombs Also.

THE SITUATION IN DUBLIN where the members of the Sinn Fein society undertook a raid against the government last Monday, continues serious, according to last reports.

Advices from Belfast are to the effect that Liberty hall, the headquarters of the Sinn Fein society, was captured by the military after it had been shelled by a gunboat.

Only aerial and artillery activities marked the progress of the war on the European fields, but the British have reversed both in Egypt and in Mesopotamia.

British Force Beaten.
In a battle near Quatia, according to reports from Constantinople, a British force of four cavalry squadrons and a mounted infantry squadron, which had been sent to the aid of the Turks, captured 299 prisoners besides inflicting heavy losses.

London announces that an attempt to relieve the beleaguered force of General Townshend in Kut-al-Amara has been abandoned by the British.

Airmen also have been active in the Asiatic field. Constantinople claims that a British aeroplane was shot down near Quatia after the British defeat and threw bombs on a hospital.

Turk Aviators Active.
The Turks attacked from an aeroplane an entire warship at El Kanlar and the docks of Port Said. They also dropped bombs on entire aviation grounds on Imbros Island.

There has been some infantry activity along the front in France held by the British forces, but along the rest of the front the artillery and aerial arms have been the means of attack by the opposing forces. The artillery bombardment has been violent both east and west of the Meuse in the Ardennes region.

French Airmen Drop Bombs.
French airmen have shelled German stations and the Germans have retaliated by attacks in the Verdun sector.

German aeroplanes have dropped bombs on the Russian battleship Slava in the Gulf of Riga, and Berlin reports the action had good results.

The Tientsins also have attacked Russian warehouses at Rjevca with air ships.

TENNESSEE RAILROADS GAVE MANY PASSES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Nashville, Tenn., April 28.—Letters to the Louisville & Nashville, and Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroads, requesting passes for judges, legislators, witnesses and newspapers were read today into the record of the interstate commerce commission's investigation of alleged corrupt practices by these carriers.

Esau Cameron, chairman of the commission, read copies of letters from the files of the two roads, showing general use of passes in Tennessee and Kentucky. One letter from a legislator, requesting a pass for a friend, over the Chattanooga road, concluded: "What do you want me to do with the railroad bills now before the commission?"

Oil Output Increased.
Petroleum, Mich., 28.—The petroleum output of Russia for 1915 was 9,152,000 tons, against 8,912,000 for 1914.

HAD AWFUL WEAK SPELLS

Suffered So Much Felt She Had to Have Relief. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Elba, Ala.—Mrs. M. T. May, of this place, writes: "I was not especially strong when I married, but after my marriage, I seemed to get very much worse. About two months after I was married, I began to have awful weak spells. Would have had bad spells of headache, simply felt bad all the time, could hardly do a thing. I suffered so much pain in my left side and had the swimming of the head and congestion and heartburn very bad. In fact I suffered so much I thought I would die. I kept getting worse and felt I must have some relief. I had some pain and difficulty in walking."

Mr. May, who ran a store in Elba, recommended that I take Cardui, and my husband bought me a bottle, which did me so much good that he bought me another, and after the use of three or four bottles I was well; was up doing my work after the use of the first bottle. It's the finest tonic I know of. I got into better health than I had been since my marriage. I advise all women who have weak spells to take it."

The thousands of letters, which come to us every day, like the above, certainly are proof of the merit of Cardui, the woman's tonic.

For sale by all druggists.

METHODISTS GET STRONG DOCTRINE FROM ROOSEVELT ON NATION'S NEED

Colonel Denounces Men Who Are Afraid to Fight When Circumstances Demand That Pacifism Cease.

USES CHINA'S PLIGHT AT POINTED ILLUSTRATION

Administration's Policy Weak in Mexico, He Asserts, and Cowardly in German Submarine Controversy.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
New York, April 28.—In his address to Methodists last night, Col. Theodore Roosevelt said:

"If those old Methodist circuit riders who spread Methodism had considered peace the chief of all earthly goods they would never have gone west of the Alleghenies. If Peter Cartwright and his fellows had feared to face trouble, if their zeal for the faith had been less than their dread of disturbance, there would not have been a single Methodist church west of the Alleghenies. They knew that there is a peace which is of course, true, but that the peace of cowardice becomes in the end the peace of death."

Lesson From China.
"China has sought peace through helplessness, through refusal to prepare, through inability to hold her own, and China now sees half her territory in the possession of alien powers and is not even her own master in the territory which she retains; and is a menace instead of an aid to world peace. It is, of course, true, that trained strength in either man or nation may be an instrument for wrongdoing; but this is merely to say what is true of every other attribute, what is just as true of oratorical power, of legal ability, of business ability, of a trained and educated brain, in any profession. But we do not pray that our sons should be either fools or weaklings in order that they may be saved from the temptations incident to the possession of courage and intelligence and strength. On the contrary, we pray that they shall be strong and brave and wise, and we strive to implant in them that spirit of service to God above through the service of man on this earth which shall make them use their strength of body and of mind aright. And all of this should be just as true of a nation as of a man."

Lesson From 1812.
"If during the years prior to the war of 1812 the American people had been willing to build a fleet of twenty battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace pathfinders and had sought to obtain peace without battleships and to have those battleships manned by crews thoroughly trained to handle them, and if they had been willing to provide a thoroughly efficient army of seven ten thousand men there would have been no war of 1812 at all. We would have had peace with self-respect; we finally had to fight that war because for the dozen years previously we had surrendered ourselves to the guidance of the professional peace path